SYNAPSE - 2026

Synapse 2026

SYNAPSE 2026 is the prestigious Inter-Medical College Fest hosted by BPKIHS, bringing together students from various medical institutions across Nepal. This week-long festival celebrates academic strength, sportsmanship, creativity, and cultural diversity through competitions in sports, literature, dance, music, and concerts. It serves as a symbol of unity, collaboration, and youth leadership, aiming to connect brilliant minds through academic excellence, creativity, and expression.

About BPKIHS

Hands throw, legs run, the heart pumps, the brain controls: the human body is a marvelous orchestral interplay of different organs and tissues, each performing unique functions for the ultimate purpose of sustaining life. But behind this monumental task of sustenance, the music doesn't come from grand instruments but from the tiny musical notes that connect and correct every small detail and sustain the sustenance itself- SYNAPSES.

From the biggest of actions to the smallest of precision, everything is made true by synapses, irrespective of chemical or electrical for it is the coming together of various neurons to form one big, interconnected structure to serve life. And similarly on the same principle, we are proud to SYNAPSE- an intermedical school quiz event which brings together colleges from all over the country for a week-long festival mixed with sports, literature, dance, music and concert.

SYNAPSE was envisioned as a platform where medical students could come together to showcase their talents, compete with one another, and, in the process, build camaraderie and brotherhood. The week-long event features sports, literary, and cultural competitions, drawing students from across the country to a single venue at BPKIHS. With all their passion, whether on the field, on stage, or through pen and microphone, participants demonstrate their skills as time seems to stand still.

Letter from Students' Welfare Society (SWS), BPKIHS

As frigid winter winds threaten to sap the warmth within,
And the gentle embrace of the sun lies hidden by gray clouds,
What keeps us resilient are the ties with kith and kin,
What lies ahead are aspirations proclaimed aloud.

A lot can happen in 8 years; power changes hands, values are tested, dreams evolve, priorities shift, the person you once were quietly gives way to someone new, and personal lives evolve alongside history.

Decades ago, a legacy was born in the form of Synapse, an inter-medical college fest, envisioned to unite the nation's medical fraternity. It sparked a movement, served us a purpose, but 8 years ago, it came to an untimely halt. Several attempts were made to revive the event, but unfortunately, it couldn't see the light of day.

But, while history evolves, legacy remains untouched, forged in the past and solidified as the years go by. The legacy stood through time; its purpose, unfulfilled but never forgotten, a summons we can no longer ignore. We have risen to answer it, to breathe life into what was left unfinished and carry it forward into a new dawn.

7 days of festivities, music, and glamour, where passion finds a voice amidst chaos and clamor.

7 days where athletic prowess, strength of will, and camaraderie leave a legacy of inspiration.

7 days exploring the intricacies of language to unravel the mysteries veiled in the mundanity of life.
